The city of youth

Just 90 km from Warsaw and 100 km from the eastern border of the European Union there is Siedlce city, which has 80 thousand inhabitants. This is the city with centuries of rich history and dynamic development in recent years. Siedlce is a city of young people, open, friendly and well educated. Universities, among them the University of Nature and Humanities, the Collegium Mazovia and other colleges educate 13 thousand students. 18 thousand children and young people educate in over 50 schools. For years Siedlce has been on top places in rankings evaluating the conditions and quality of life in Polish cities. The unquestionable advantage of the city is the location on one of the most important transport routes in Europe. Railway route Berlin - Moscow, currently being modernized and converted into a „quick railway”, provides convenient connections with the whole Europe.

Tradition obliges

Cultural traditions of the city date back to the Princess Alexandra Oginski, when in the second half of the eighteenth century, Siedlce was one of the most important cultural centers in the Republic of Poland. The most valuable monuments of the city – the Ogiński Palace, The Town Hall, the classical St. Stanislaus church and the historic park „Alexandria” date from this period. The Diocesan Museum boasts the unique collection, where the only in Poland picture of the famous Spanish painter El Greco „Ecstasy of St. Francis” is exhibited. A museum bearing the name of John Paul II boasts an impressive collection of his memorabilia, the world’s third largest collection.

Culture flagships

Siedlce is a cultural jewel of the Eastern Mazovia. Modern stage theatre, which flagships are performances and concerts of The ‘ES’ Theatre, The Dance Theatre Caro Dance, The Siedlce City Choir and Orchestra, presented for thousands of spectators during the theater season. International and national music, theatre and dance festivals for years have been attracted artists and tourists from the whole Poland.

Sports investments

4th European Festival Veterans will be played at a Stadium Agency of the City Development.

Facility has a main pitch and three training ones. Alongside is a Water Park and Hotel Ibis Styles and there are plans to build a sports hall. Rugby team was established in Siedlce in 1979 and currently plays in the Extraliga, the biggest success is the vice-Polish championship won in 2014.

The gate to the Bug valley

Siedlce is a great place to start the trip in a wonderful valley of the Bug. This is still a wild and unregulated river which attracts enthusiasts of the true nature. The unique nature of the Bug valley, not affected by civilization, multiculturalism of regions situated along the river makes a trip stay in memory for a long time. Free gallop on the horseback along the Bug River, rafting or hiking, combined with discovery of natural wonders, or interesting cycling routes, is one of many possibilities of spending a weekend or holiday. Each place is charming here, but the most exceptional are: the view from the Castle Hill in Drohiczyn or Mielnik, the most famous in the world stud farm of Arabian horses in Janow Podlaski or mountain Grabarka - Orthodox place of worship. It is only one step to Bialowieza from here, which with its unique wilderness is inscribed on the UNESCO World Heritage Site.
